

Express Mondor continues its support for the fight against breast cancer

$30,000 raised for the Quebec Breast Cancer Foundation

Lanoraie, Quebec, October 19, 2022 – After a two-year hiatus due to the pandemic, Express Mondor resumed its commitment by raising $30,000 for the Quebec Breast Cancer Foundation at its annual golf tournament and fundraising dinner on September 22.

More than 200 people answered Express Mondor's call and came together at Le Portage Golf Club in L'Assomption. More than 150 players participated in the tournament, and 205 guests gathered in the club's dining room to enjoy this year's benefit dinner, under the honorary chairmanship of Pierre Vercheval, former Montreal Alouettes (CFL) and current RDS sports commentator.

This event was the seventh fundraising tournament Express Mondor organized in support of the Quebec Breast Cancer Foundation, whose mission is to contribute to research and support for people with breast cancer. Since its first tournament, Express Mondor has donated nearly $200,000 to the Foundation.

“Express Mondor’s Annual Golf Tournament has become a true tradition, and we’re proud that it’s back. We’re happy to welcome the players and all the other guests who come together to have a good time while contributing to a cause that’s dear to our hearts. We all know a spouse or a friend who’s had to deal with this cruel disease,” said Éric Mondor, President of Express Mondor. “I want to thank the members of the organizing committee, as well as our partners, customers, and employees, who participated in our fundraising event and helped make it a success to contribute to the fight against this disease.”

“The Foundation is very honoured to have been able to count on the support of a partner of choice like Express Mondor and the commitment of its network for many years. The funds raised will help us continue to advance breast cancer research and raise public awareness of the issues surrounding this disease and its impact on families,” says Catherine Bourdon, Community Initiatives Manager at the Quebec Breast Cancer Foundation.
